Can you find all of the landmarks that are mentioned in the story? Some are the names of the places and others are a picture of the place. Put a dot on each one you find and draw a straight line between the landmarks she visits. Try to do them in order to see how far she travels.

For Windsor Castle you need to start in London.

For Snowdonia you will need to find the snow-capped mountain in Wales.

Which of these places will the Queen have to travel across the sea to get to?

Which sea will she have to travel over?

Which of these places would you most like to visit? Why?

This is what your map might look like – I haven't put the actual places in though ! That would be too easy!
