

Katie In London.

1. In the text it says, 'London seemed very big to Katie.'
How many more times does it say the word 'big'?
Four more times.
2. Why do you think the author chose to write 'big' that many times?

So that the reader understands just how large London seems to Katie.

3. Katie, Jack and Grandma get off the bus at Trafalgar Square.
What do you think the children are impressed by? Write more than one thing.

The lion statue, the fountains, the grand buildings, all the pigeons.

4. We know Grandma is tired, because it says so in the text.
What else does Grandma do that tells us she is tired?

She yawned.

5. Which word in the text means to climb all over?

Clamber.

6. Do you think Grandma knew what would happen to the children?

No, because statues don't come alive and talk and move.

Yes, she knew the children would have an adventure.

Without her.
