Greenpeace have taken to instagram to challenge people to draw creatures of the oceans.

The last challenge that we completed was drawing whales. You did a fantastic job of this!

An underwater scene with a white rectangular box in the center. The background is blue water with light blue wavy lines. On the left, there is a red fish and green coral. On the right, there is a green clam and more coral. At the bottom, there is a sandy floor with small bubbles and a clownfish.

I want to show you some of the work completed by other people from around the world...

Amazing drawing
by @marieketenberge

A central illustration of a whale breaching the ocean. The whale is black with white stripes on its back and is shown in a dynamic, leaping pose. The ocean waves are white and blue. In the background, a large, bright full moon is visible against a dark sky.

Ideas

What version of a dolphin will you draw?

Types of Dolphins

Oceanic Dolphins

New World River Dolphins

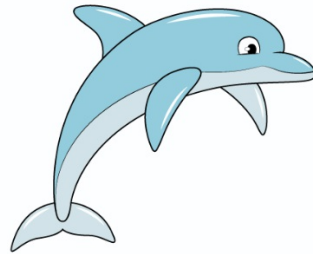

Indian River Dolphins

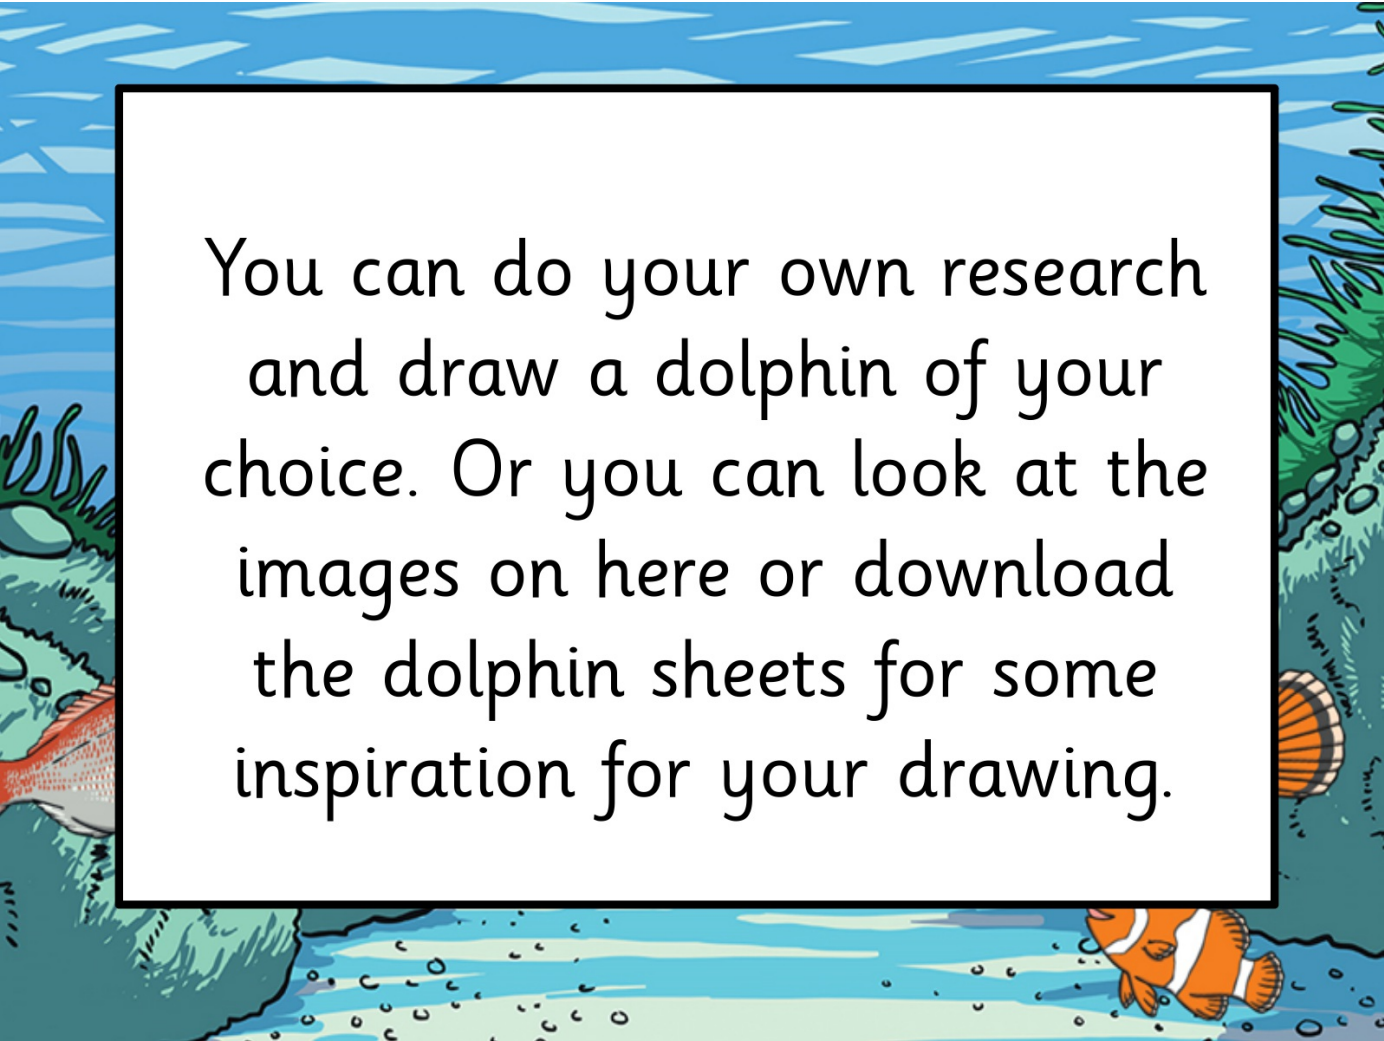

Brackish Dolphins

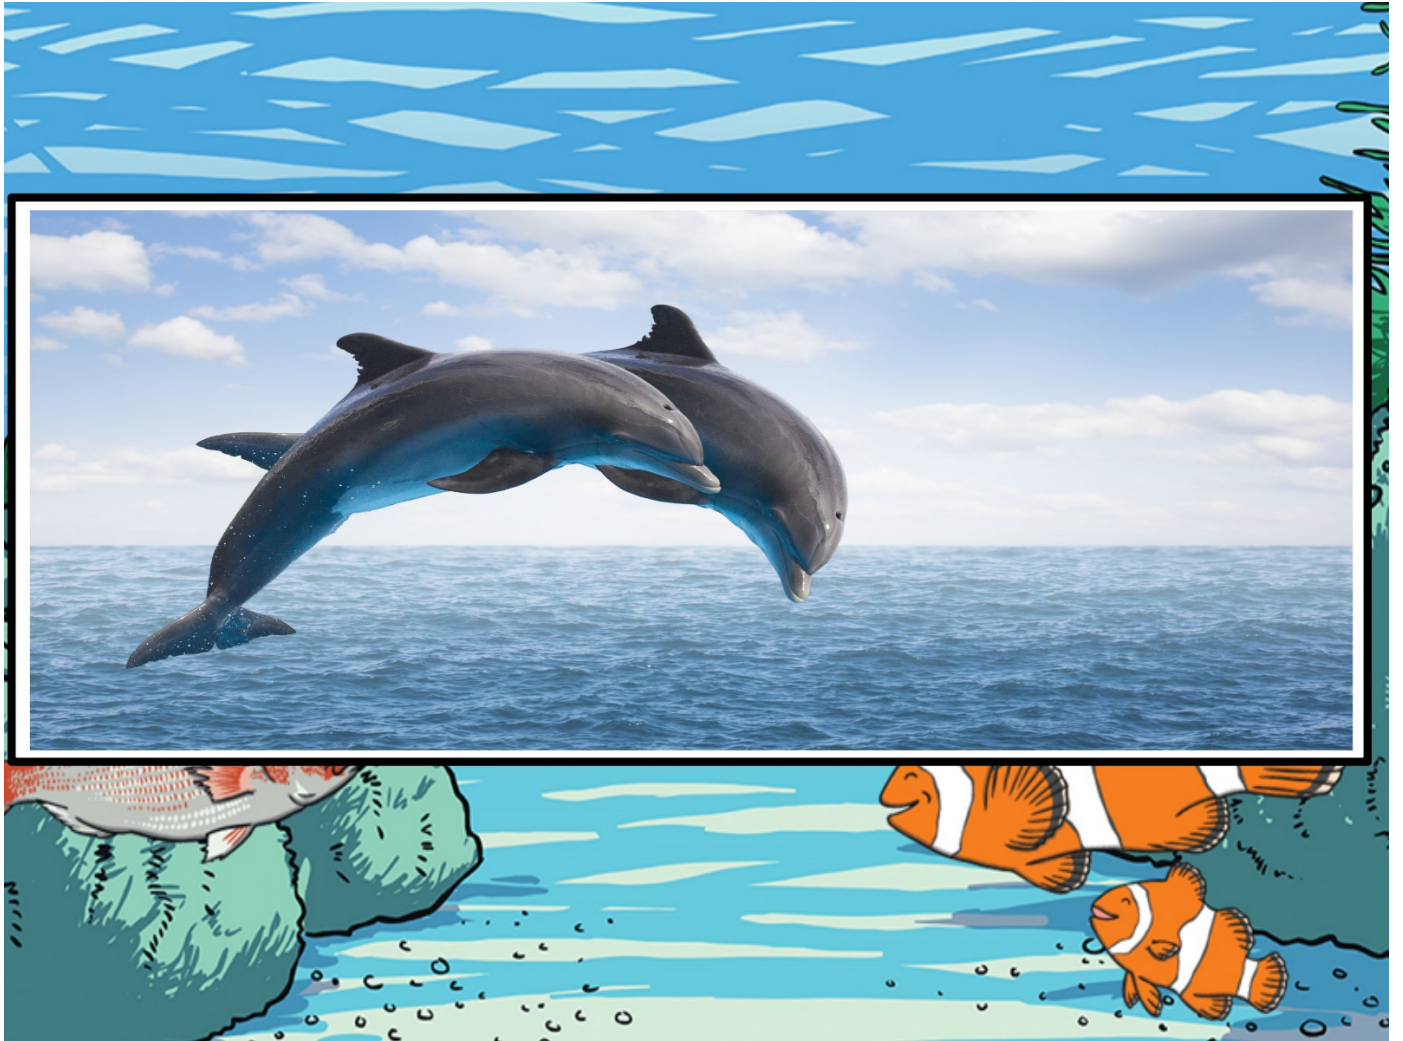

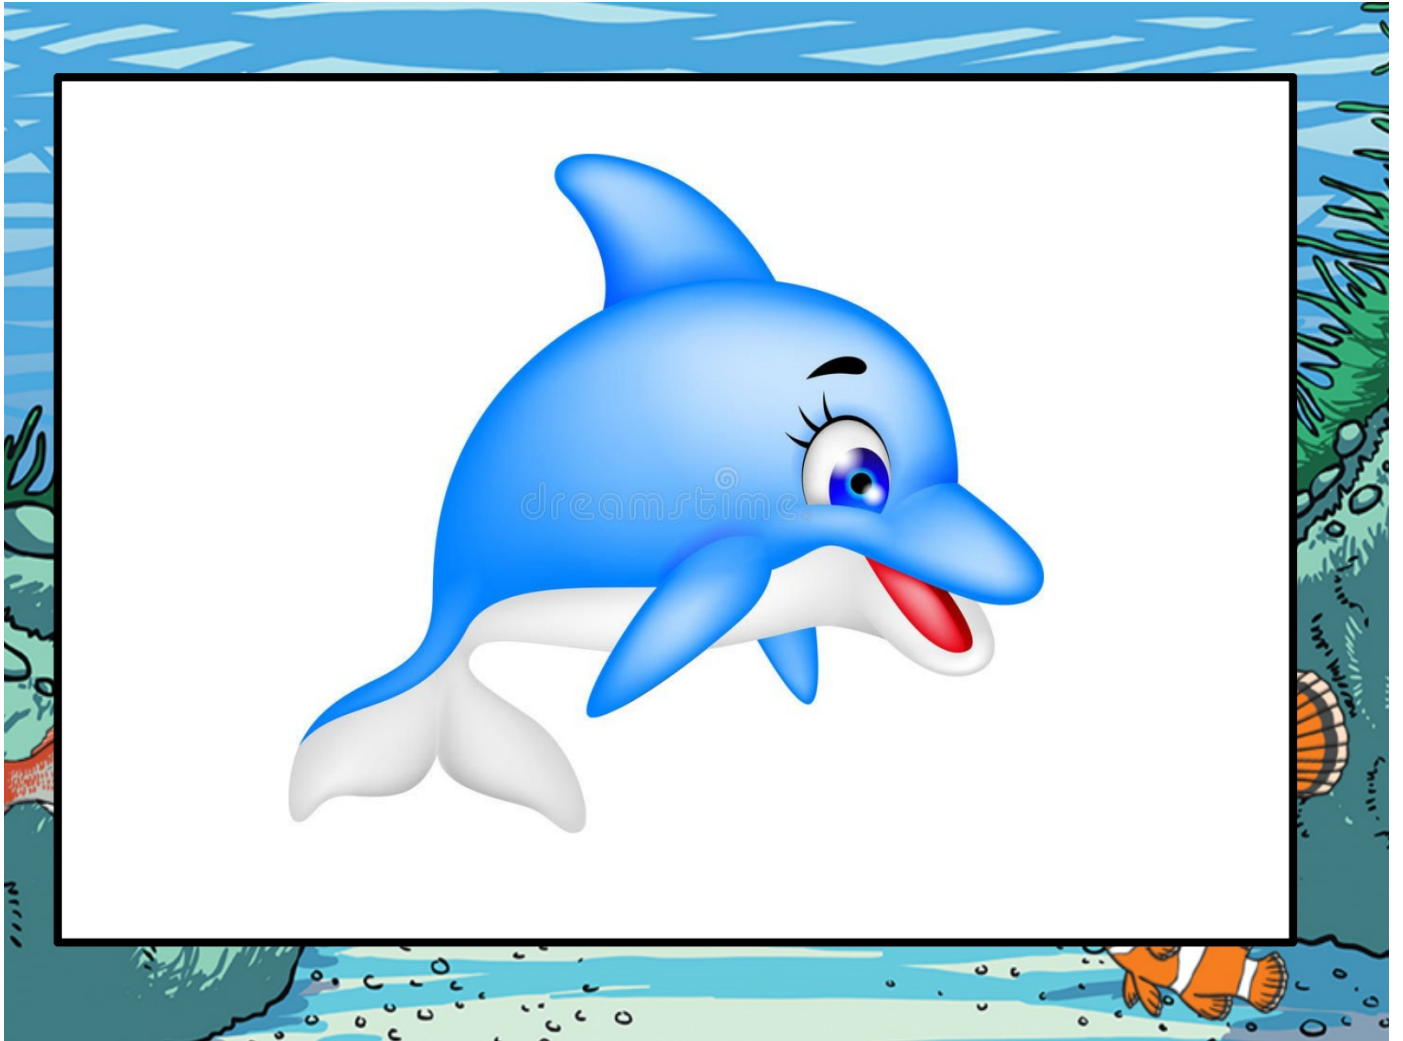

Will you draw a cartoon
version or real life?

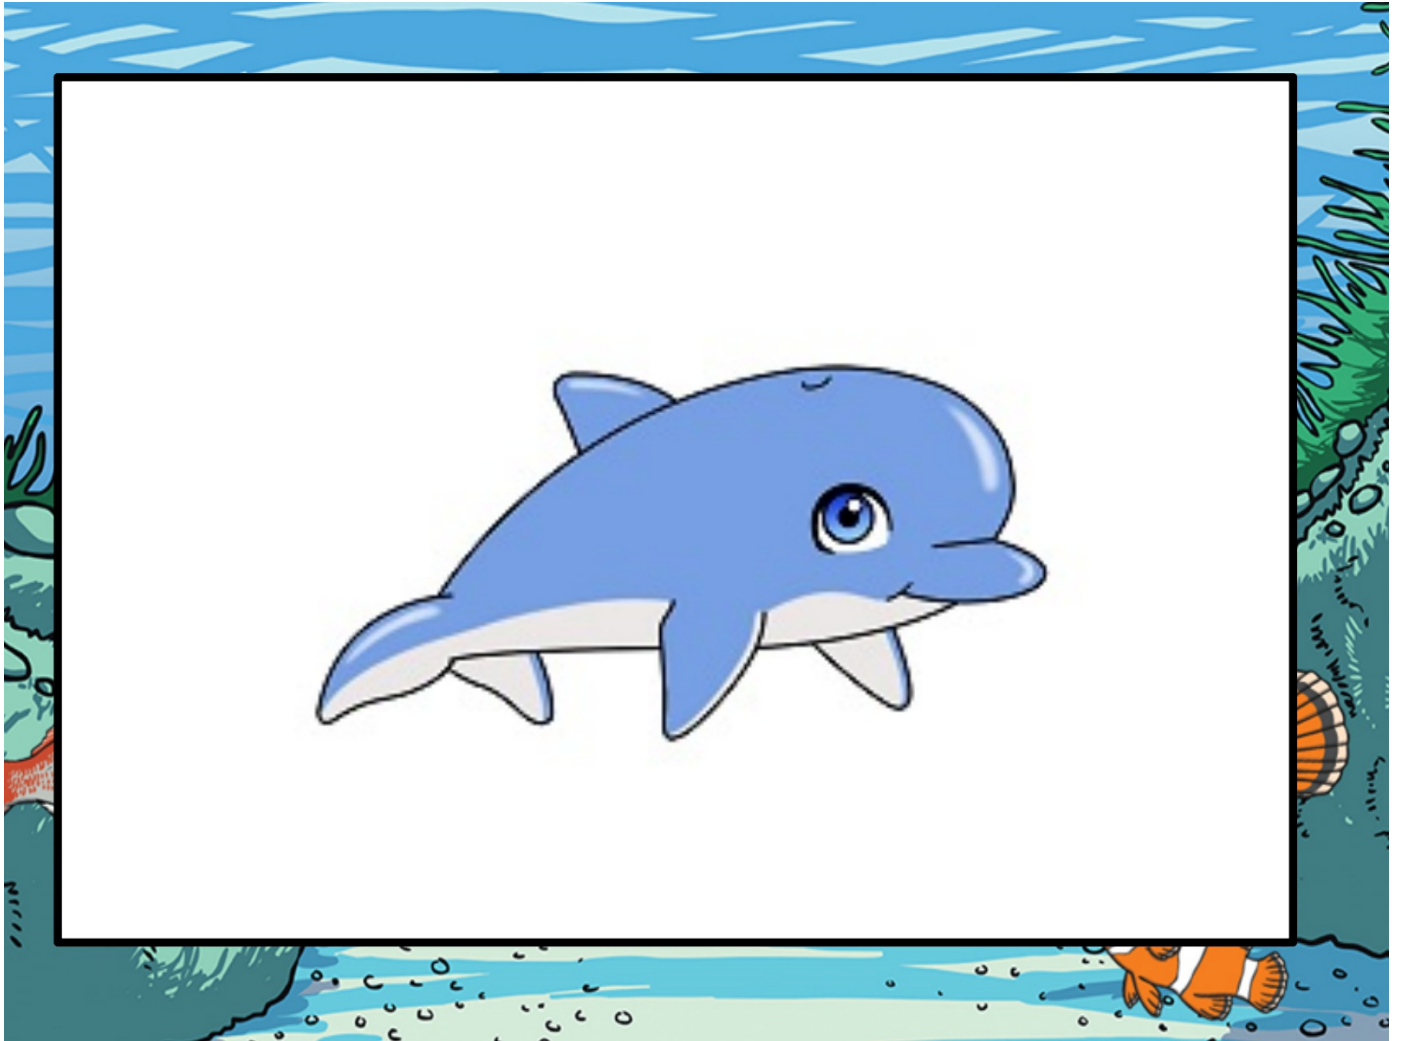

You can do your own research and draw a dolphin of your choice. Or you can look at the images on here or download the dolphin sheets for some inspiration for your drawing.

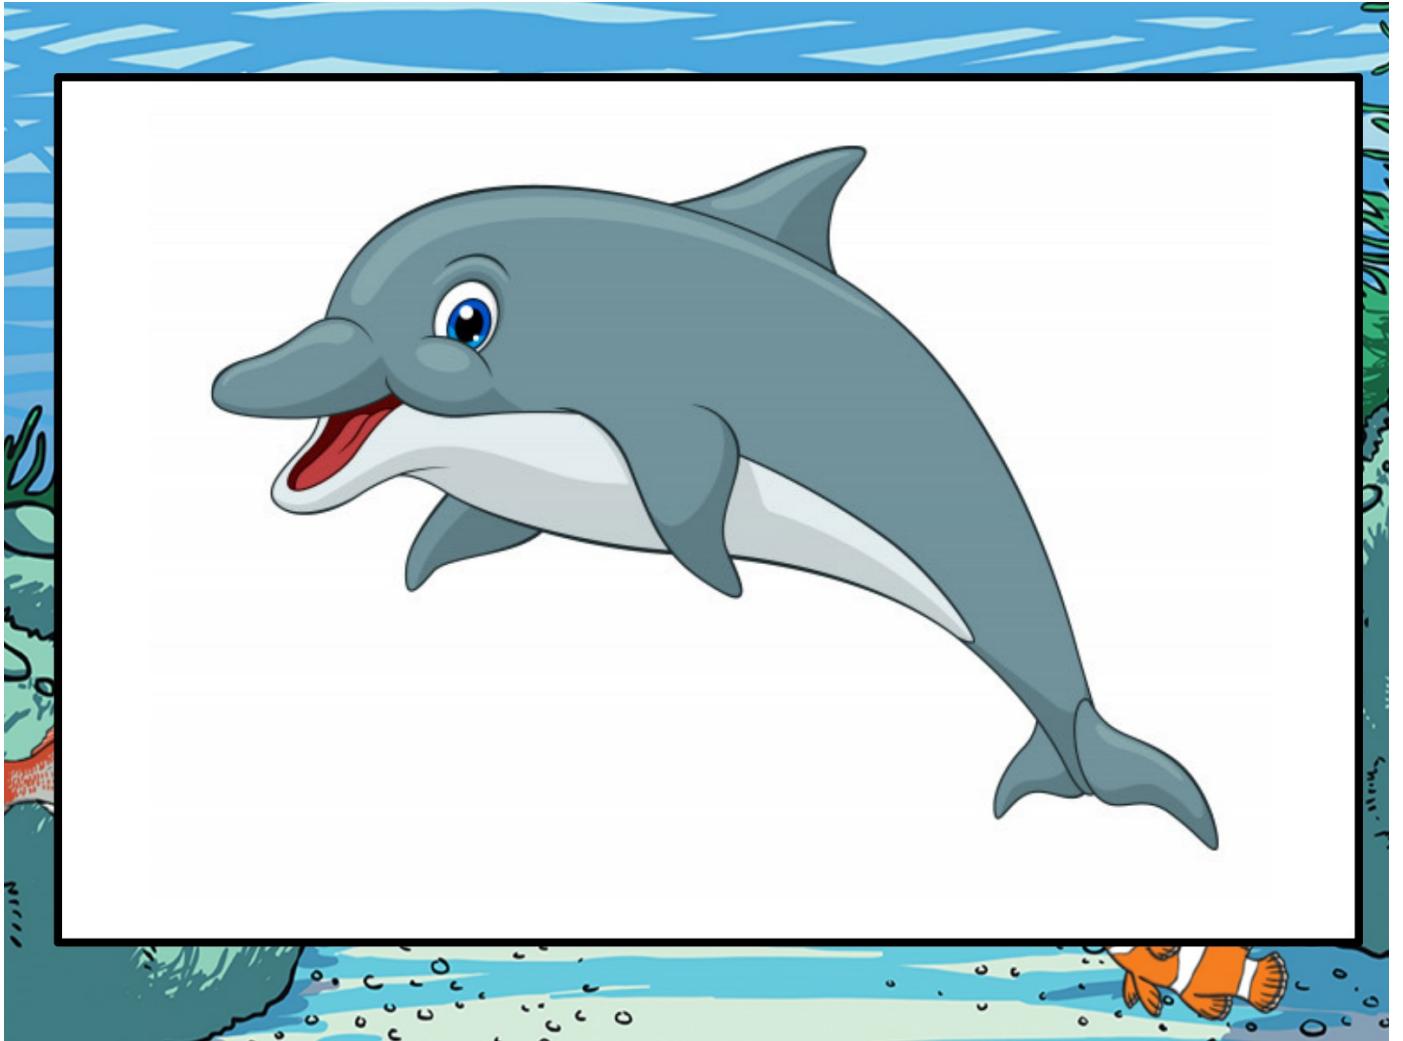

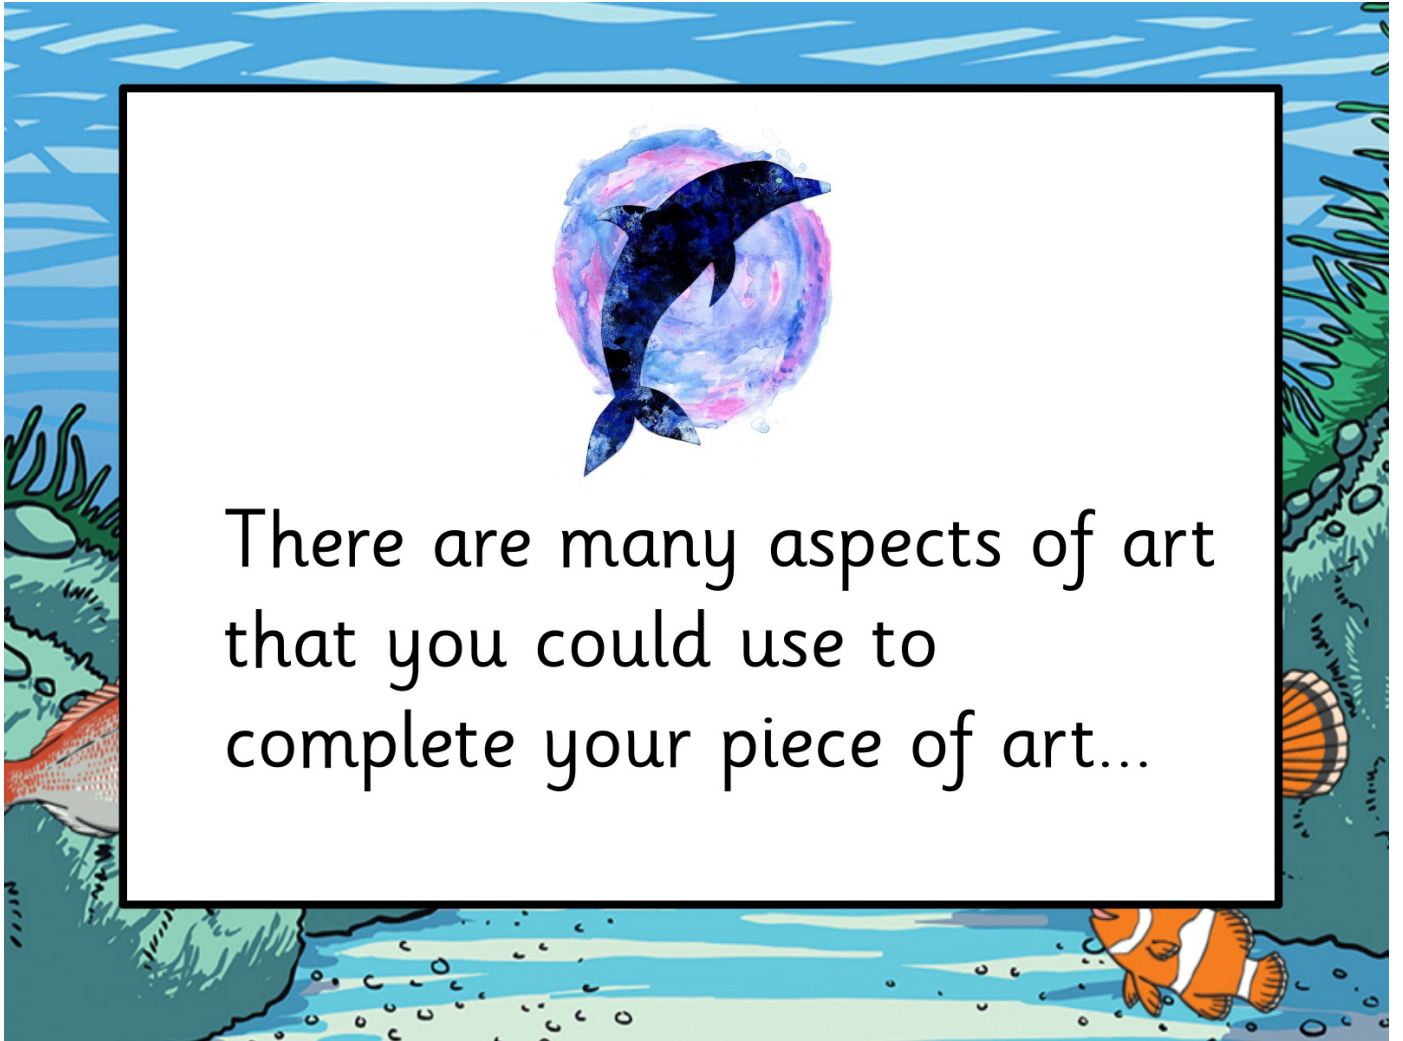

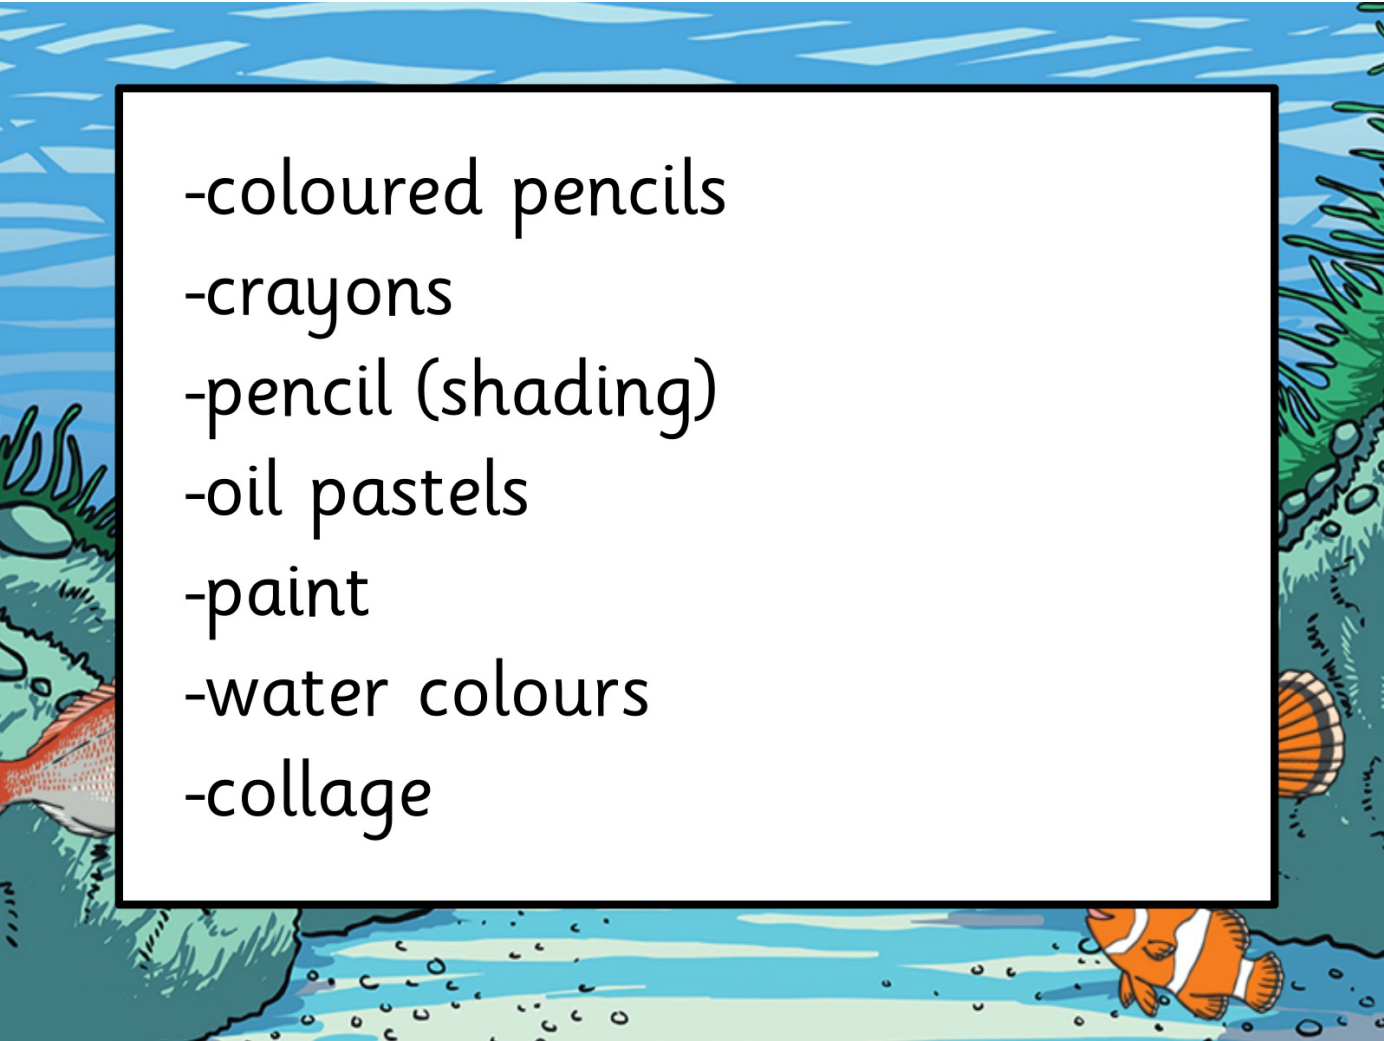

There are many aspects of art that you could use to complete your piece of art...

Once you have sketched your dolphin you could add detail and colour using...

- An underwater scene illustration. The top part shows blue water with white highlights. Below is a white rectangular box containing a list of art materials. The bottom part shows a sandy ocean floor with a clownfish, a seashell, and coral. On the left, a red fish is partially visible near some coral.
- coloured pencils
 - crayons
 - pencil (shading)
 - oil pastels
 - paint
 - water colours
 - collage

What will you use?

Don't forget to tweet your art to @hillstoneps with the hashtag #DrawTheOcean
