Lesson 2: Flossie's Perspective

Today, we'll be focusing on the owner of the secret war diary, Flossie Albright.

What have we learned about Flossie in the first part of the diary?

If you need to, go back to Monday's lesson to see the first part of the
