

Day 3

Your task is to write a story on the journey from cocoa pod to supermarket shelf. Use your table of the stages from yesterday to help you.

You have to pretend you are the cocoa pod itself. Therefore, you will:

- Use first person pronouns.
- Use paragraphs.
- Explain each stage in chronological order.
- Use expanded noun phrases.

Today, you will finish writing about the rest of your journey as a cocoa pod.

On the next slide is a model text showing how you can achieve each learning objective. You can use this to give you some inspiration.

Write a story explaining the journey from cocoa pod to supermarket shelf.

Use paragraphs in longer stories.	<input type="radio"/>
Use fronted adverbials effectively.	<input type="radio"/>
Use commas after fronted adverbials, mostly accurately.	<input type="radio"/>

After that, we are shipped to the chocolate factories all over the world. At the factories, we are cleaned and then roasted. Our shells are removed and the beans are ground into a thick, brown liquid. At this point, if you were to eat the brown beans, they would taste very bitter. However, there are other ingredients that are added to make the chocolate to taste nice. For instance, white sugar and cocoa butter. The mixture is stirred thoroughly and ensure there are no grainy bits left over.

Then, the chocolate mixture is poured into a mould to give it a shape. Finally, the chocolate is wrapped and sent to the supermarkets to be sold.
